

*Palladian Health Awarded NCQA Certification
for Utilization Management & Credentialing*

BUFFALO, NY., May 6, 2016 – Palladian Health, an industry leader in the musculoskeletal health space focusing on the biomechanics, structure and function of the spine, announced today that the National Committee for Quality Assurance (NCQA) has awarded the company NCQA Certification in Utilization Management and Credentialing.

NCQA Certification is governed by the Standards for Certification in Utilization Management and the Standards for Certification in Credentialing, developed with the assistance of representatives from the Standards Committee, the Review Oversight Committee, and input from other organizations.

“We are honored to receive these prestigious accreditations,” said Michael Giaquinto, Chief Executive Officer at Palladian. “NCQA recognition demonstrates our commitment to provide the best access for clinically excellent and affordable musculoskeletal health. We would like to thank NCQA for their valuable role in recognizing and promoting high-quality care within the health care industry”.

About NCQA

The National Committee for Quality Assurance (NCQA) is a private, non-profit organization dedicated to improving health care quality. NCQA accredits and certifies a wide range of health care organizations. It also recognizes clinicians and practices in key areas of performance. NCQA is committed to providing health care quality information for consumers, purchasers, health care providers and researchers.

About Palladian Health

Palladian is a musculoskeletal care management company focusing on physical therapy, chiropractic and spine pain services located in upstate New York. Over the past 20 years, they have worked with insurers, TPAs, ACOs and large self-funded groups to help improve their member’s clinical outcomes, while reducing unnecessary medical procedures.

PR Contact

Palladian Health | Trish Nowak | 716.712.2706 | pnowak@palladianhealth.com